How do I file an Extension? What if I owe the IRS this year?

by Sandra Moore, Senior Tax Specialist and Certified Small Business Consultant
by Sandra Moore, HR Block

Need more time to prepare your federal tax return? Filing Extension Form 4868 is free and easy. Please be aware that:

- The IRS reminds taxpayers that a request for an extension provides extra time to file a tax return, but not extra time to pay any taxes owed. Payments are still due by the original deadline. Taxpayers should file even if they can't pay the full amount. By filing either a return on time or requesting an extension by the April 18 filing deadline, they'll avoid the late-filing penalty, which can be 10 times as costly as the penalty for not paying.

- Your Extension Form 4868 can be filed anytime up to April 18 and your new filing date will be October 16, 2023.

- The fastest and easiest way to get an extension is through IRS Free File on IRS.gov. Taxpayers can electronically request an extension on Form 4868PDF. To get the extension, taxpayers must estimate their tax liability on this form and should timely pay any amount due.

- Fast, free, and easy ways to pay your taxes include using IRS Direct Pay, the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System, or by paying with a credit or debit card or digital wallet.

- Taxpayers who pay as much as they can by the due date reduce the overall amount subject to penalty and interest charges. The interest rate is currently 4% per year, compounded daily. The late-filing penalty is generally 5% per month and the late-payment penalty is normally 0.5% per month.

- The IRS will work with taxpayers who cannot pay the full amount of tax they owe. Other options to pay, such as getting a loan or paying by credit card, may help resolve a tax debt. Most people can set up a payment plan on IRS.gov to pay off their balance over time.

This article was written by Sandra Moore, Senior Tax Specialist and Certified Small Business Consultant, along with other sources such as The Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Sandra can be reached via email sandra.moore@hrblock.com or phone at (970) 887-3753. H&R Block, Granby, Inc. is a locally-owned franchise and is located at 62801 US 40, Granby CO.

Celebrate Cesar Chavez Day with EBSCO Databases

By Tess Riley, Library Associate

Did you know that March 31 is Cesar Chavez Day? I didn't. In fact, until I got ready to write this article, I knew embarrassingly little about Cesar Chavez or why we celebrate him each year.

Lucky for me, Grand County Library District (GCLD) has recently subscribed to EBSCO Databases, greatly expanding our bank of free online learning tools. EBSCO provides research databases with access to various reliable articles and information.

EBSCO's History Reference Center was my first stop in my quest to learn more about Cesar Chavez. A simple search of "Cesar Chavez" brought back dozens of full-text articles and book excerpts. In addition to extensive biographical information, I learned that Chavez is recognized for his advocacy for Mexican-American workers. He was responsible for the creation of the American Farm Workers Movement, tackling the economic, social, and racial injustices suffered by migrant workers. His heroic efforts led to competitive pay, safer working conditions, and greatly improved lives for countless workers and their families.

EBSCO's Ethnic Diversity Source returns hundreds more articles about Chavez and his legacy among Hispanics as well as more information about how Cesar Chavez Day became a national holiday in 2014. The date was selected to honor Chavez's birthday, March 31, 1927.

The Psychology and Behavioral Sciences Collection leads me to a review of "Harvesting Hope: The Story of Cesar Chavez" by Kathleen Krull, a children's book on the life and work of Chavez. A quick search of GCLD's online catalog reveals a copy in the Granby Library's foreign language collection, a perfect way for young Spanish speakers to learn about Chavez in their native tongue. It's also available in English as a downloadable resource in Hoopla, GCLD's cloud-based digital library.

Speaking of Spanish, should you be interested in learning to speak it, or any other language, GCLD's EBSCO Database gives you free access to Rosetta Stone.

And finally, a visit to the Poetry & Short Story Reference Center leads me to a poem by A.D. Winans, written in honor of Cesar Chavez and the immigrants he championed. I will leave you with this fitting tribute to a true American hero.

POEM FOR THE IMMIGRANTS ON THE CORNER OF
CESAR CHAVEZ

IN SAN FRANCISCO
you see them standing
on the corner
day in and day out
in boiling sun or bitter cold
waiting for a car to stop
a driver to offer them work
at below minimum pay
in the fields or sweat shops
no questions asked
no quarter given
men and women who risk drowning
to cross the border

they wear a cross to ward off evil
pick your food bus your tables

skin cracked from the sun
ignore the eyes that follow them
the long arm of the law
the cruel words from ignorant tongues

these men with skin dark as dirt
with a wife and children
with needs like you and me
never lose their dignity
never lose their faith
never lose the hope of becoming part of the American dream

Obituaries

Judith Kay Romero

Judith Kay Romero passed away at the age of 72 on March 24, 2023. Judy was a lifelong resident of Kremmling, where she raised and loved her large family. Judy was born in Steamboat Springs on September 14, 1950 and was raised in Kremmling by her parents John and Ruth Murphy alongside her four siblings Linda, Mike, Dan, and Susie. She attended West Grand High School, and in 1968, Judy started her family with the birth of her daughter Marcia Romero. In the years that followed she gave birth to her sons Ken Romero, Tim Romero, and Paul Romero. In 1984 Judy became a grandmother, and during the next 38 years, she welcomed 6 grandkids and 9 great grandkids. In 1993 Judy met the love of her life, Scott Hitchcock. Her family was her life, and she fiercely loved each member with her whole heart.

Judy held several jobs through the years, but the one profession she enjoyed the most was the many years she spent working at Middle Park Meat Company, where she met her husband, Scott. When she wasn't providing for her family, Judy could be found enjoying the mountains she called home. She was an avid hunter and loved everything about the outdoors. She loved to collect rocks and arrowheads, hunt, trap, fish, and was very skilled at taxidermy. She had a genuine love of nature and photographed it whenever she had a chance. Judy was known for her incredible green thumb and the delicious canned goods she made every season along with the spoils of her yearly hunting adventures. She loved having family around, and everyone remembers how she went all out to make those times special and memorable.

Judy is preceded in death by her parents Ruth and John Murphy, father-in-law Mike Romero, Mother in law Virginia Romero, and sister in law Carol McKay. She is survived by husband Scott Hitchcock, son Ken Romero, son Tim (Corina) Romero, son Paul (Michelle) Romero of Kremmling, daughter Marcia (Steve) Svensson of Delta, CO, brother Dan (Deb) Murphy of Kremmling, CO, sister Susie Murphy-Chavez of Laramie, WY, brother Mike (Tammy) Murphy of Rifle, CO, sister Linda Taylor (Roger) of Eagle Creek, OR, grandchildren Chris (Misty) Overholt, Brittany Overholt (Kalib Block), April Overholt (Sherman Pritt), Natalie Svensson, Wes Romero, Michael Romero, and great-grandchildren Zade Overholt, Tylinn Overholt, Jayden Overholt, Luana Overholt, Bradley Holland, Xavier Overholt, Avery Elle Svensson, Landon Romero, Violet Romero, and numerous in-laws, nieces, nephews, and cousins.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, April 15, at 1 p.m. at the West Grand Middle School in Kremmling, CO, 715 Kinsey Ave. In lieu of flowers the family requests donations be made to Children's Hospital of Denver.

Obituaries are posted for FREE in the Grand Gazette. Our desire is to support those who are suffering through a loss and help in whatever way we can. Obituaries have no word limit and you can place up to 2 photos. Entries can be submitted to editor@grandgazette.net. We ask that all entries be submitted by 5 p.m. on Mondays.
